About

I am an artist, creating abstract art and pencil graphics. I also study 3Ds Max and am interested in 3D art as well as experiment with the usage of AI-generated art.

I like abstract art because, for me, art is, first and foremost, freedom. Painting should be (and it is) a play. In a world overwhelmed with external ideas and symbols, there is too little place left for a dialogue with oneself. And abstract art provides such an opportunity. In abstract paintings, everyone will see something personal and unique. There are no right or wrong answers.

My biggest art project, for now, is a series of 100 abstract paintings called "100 Days of Art", which was created from February 2022 to August 2022. Besides, I have a number of smaller series and solo paintings and artworks, as well as create in digital space.

Changed my professional field to artistry in 2022, currently live in South-East Asia.

I have an experience in international studies, among others took part in a short-term exchange program with Tohoku University (Japan).
